DEFINING THE STANDARD OF MDF

MEDITE PREMIER used to make bespoke furniture

For clients seeking beautiful interior design, Richard Baker is a professional joinery company that provides bespoke furniture. To achieve this the company regularly turns to the versatility, ease of working and quality finish that MEDITE PREMIER MDF can provide.

Rachel Baker, who runs the business with husband Richard, explains why the company turns to MEDITE SMARTPLY time and again: "This is the perfect material for our well designed pieces. We usually hand paint all our furniture products and the smooth surface of MEDITE PREMIER panels makes it ideal for a high quality, professional finish."

The smooth face properties of MEDITE PREMIER makes it suitable not only for a painted finish, but also for the application of even the thinnest veneers, laminates and surface coatings to achieve the desired result. This is ideal for furniture and cabinet-makers and bespoke craftspeople.

Rachel continues: "The way the MDF is manufactured, with a very strong core, enables us to use it for bespoke pieces, in particular our coffee bar, door profiles and bolection mouldings."

The innate strength of MEDITE PREMIER comes from its consistent quality and thickness, which also means less tool wear for the joiner. Convenient and easy to use, MEDITE SMARTPLY provides a solution for even the most artisanal projects where quality and attention to detail are key.
